

Facilities and Operations Support

ClerkMaxwell brings a wealth of operational and integrity experience into the consultancy market.

This allows our clients to obtain quick specialist knowledge; from people they know and trust, to resolve operational and integrity issues they may be experiencing.

Our experience can be utilised reactively (to solve an immediate problem), or proactively (by considering operational strategies).

ClerkMaxwell offers expertise in the following broad areas:

- Life of field planning - including integrity management strategies, and safety critical system analysis
- Debottlenecking of process plant and utilities to increase production
- Plant optimisation to reduce operational expenditures
- Operational and troubleshooting support
- Corrosion integrity management
- Availability and reliability modelling

The ClerkMaxwell team, with extensive experience in the aforementioned operational support areas, will work in close liaison with the client operations and management to ensure that a smooth and effective service is available as and when required.

This core business, in itself, also gives knowledge and support to the front end activities performed by ClerkMaxwell such as feasibility, conceptual and FEED studies, particularly in a brownfield environment.
